

Before Bordeaux, before Tuscany, there was Lebanon, Georgia and surrounding lands.

The World's Oldest Wine Regions

Thousands of years ago, our ancestors pressed grapes and mastered the art of fermentation, crafting wines that would shape civilizations. They filled their boats and carried this tradition across the Mediterranean, weaving wine into the fabric of culture.

At Raffiné, we offer the traditions our ancestors spread.

THE ARC OF HISTORY

8,000 years in three chapters.

ANCIENT WORLD

The earliest documented wine cultures of the Caucasus and the Levant, including Georgia, Lebanon and neighbouring lands. Home to the world's oldest grape varieties and fermentation traditions.

OLD WORLD

Regions where viticulture expanded, matured, and was codified through classical antiquity and the Middle Ages. Primarily regions in Southern Europe, Central Europe, and North Africa.

NEW WORLD

Regions adapting the craft to new climates and frontiers around the globe, such as the Americas, Australia, South Africa, alongside newer wine-producing regions.
